

THE HUNT

By Harris

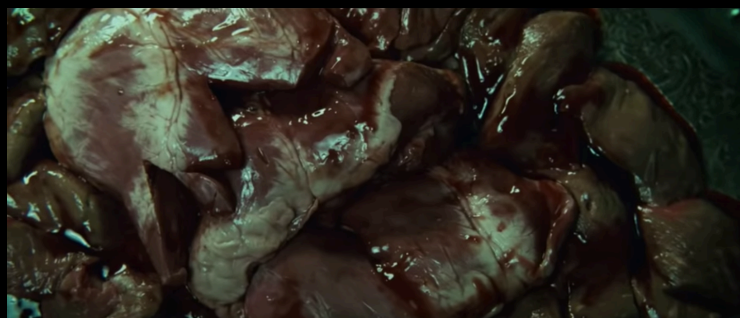

Music video treatment by Daria Meyer
(First Draft)

The structure of a music video contains 3 lines:
The main line is a dinner.

The dinner is a noir style semi ritual gathering, where 8 women get together for a feast. It's a gorgeous table loaded with food, candles, flowers, all kind of expensive looking things. Women are dressed very stylish with a distinctive office look. They are all very reserved and mysterious. The main course is meat. It's a very big plate. While they eat they progressively getting out of their shell: it starts like a high society dinner, but they progressively getting more and more wild and violent with food, their hair drop down, they laugh and losing up, the eating becomes something almost sexual. By the end on the dinner wide shot reveals the bones on a table that make the shape of human skeleton.

Second line is Harris.

We see Harris is being trapped in leather belts, running through the woods. Following shot, handheld camera, black & white, flashlight on his face, he is clearly scared and trying to escape. Throughout the dinner we see him running that make an illusion that this what has happened before.

Third line is Rooftop dancing.

Story.

Harris runs through the woods. Women arrive to the dinner. They take their sits. Meanwhile we have mixed montage between Harris run and him singing on a roof top. By 3/4 of the video Harris is being placed by the wall in unknown location, panicking, trying to untight himself. Then we see silhouette of chef, then close up of his eyes, mouth, hands with big scary ring. He looks at Harris, approaches him. Cut to the dinner: it's already on it's highest point when the skeleton is being revealed, women laugh, right until one of them is picking the last piece of meat and discover the ring we have seen in a previous shot on chef's hand. We see an expression on her face: she is shocked: the whole time they were eating the wrong guy. The video end with Harris running through the woods: now it's clear he managed to escape.
